Event Overview

For the past 57 years, The Portland Highland Games has been a day for sharing heritage, competition and one of the summer season highlights of the greater Portland area.

This year, the annual Portland Highland Games, to be held Saturday, July 17, 2010 at Mt. Hood Community College, will feature world champion pipe bands, top-ranked athletes, traditional piping, drumming and dancing, Border Collie sheep-herding demonstrations, special activities and games for children, vendors, food and other family-oriented festivities. The Portland

Highland Games is a competitive event, not a reenactment; participants are professional and amateur athletes, musicians, dancers and working dogs committed to keeping the Games alive by sharing a piece of Scotland's history with the community!
